RE: Cato Township Voter Turnout

You will note on the Official Canvass report that there is a manual change in the Cato Township voter turnout. The reason for that is that the Cato Township Clerk erased their vDrive with the results on it election night. Therefore their results had to be hand keyed into Verity because we print our "official" reports after we manually upload all of our vDrives. Because the Village of Lakeview falls within Cato Township, and Cato Township is one precinct, it was impossible for us to split out all of the results except for those within the Village races. Hence why the Village turnout was doubled in Verity but then was manually backed out by the Board of Canvassers. Turnout of 1509 had to be entered into Verity for Precinct 1A, and then 523 was entered for 1B so that it didn't appear that more people were voting than the number of registered voters.

Then when reports are printed, the splits are combined into one total for Cato Township which makes it appear that 2032 people voted, when actually 986 voted in 1A and 523 voted in 1B.

I've included the Unofficial report from Election Night to show that only 1509 voted in the township, and also the Village report which showed that 523 people voted as proof.
